*"Thank you is the best prayer that anyone can say."
 Alice Walker*

As we near the end of a challenging year, we want to extend a heartfelt thank you for your support of the clinic and our mission. This year, more than ever, we are reminded of how important our services are to the communities we serve. Like so many organizations, COVID-19 has meant significant changes to our day-to-day operations. Support from individuals and businesses in our communities made it possible for us to adapt quickly and provide continuity of care for our patients. We are hopeful we can count on you to help us meet our end of the year giving goal of $50,000, so that we can continue to provide these vital public health services and meet the rising need.

Pandemic Perseverance

We know that most of our patients are low income, essential workers, and suffer from chronic illness. Their inability to take time off during the ongoing pandemic has meant an increased risk of both exposure to COVID-19 and complications if they do contract the virus. Our patients lack access to health insurance through their employers, so our clinic provides critical and comprehensive healthcare services. These services aim to manage their health, including chronic conditions, and hopefully decrease their risk to Covid-19 as well.

Mauro, pictured on the right, came to the clinic over two years ago with severe asthma and diabetes. Our volunteer providers and network of specialists provided him with access to critical medications and care necessary to manage these conditions. With our help, Mauro continues to manage his chronic conditions successfully. Management of his health has meant the ability to provide for his family. Even throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, Mauro has received our services, which means he has one less thing to worry about during a time of such uncertainty.

As the only critical safety net clinic in our two-county area, our patients, like Mauro, count on us for their healthcare. While we may have not been
